

What's New at WALA January 2012

Dear Sir or Madam,

The Dr.Hauschka family is growing: our three Body Moisturizers have been joined by two new ones. When we were developing them we did not focus on their actions alone. We also asked ourselves what part their fragrance plays. For instance: when we smell lavender we feel calm, balanced and centred. The scent of lemons, in contrast, makes us feel young and energised, as though refreshed by a summer breeze. We have taken these insights and integrated them into the new products, creating fragrances to suit every mood.

We wish you pleasant reading!

Earache in Children

It is the middle of the night. From a child's bedroom come squeals of pain, the sound of bitter tears and a cry for parental attention: "My ear's hurting!" Night-time earache attacks small children suddenly and is very painful. A rapid, confident response is called for.

Plant Portrait: Mistletoe

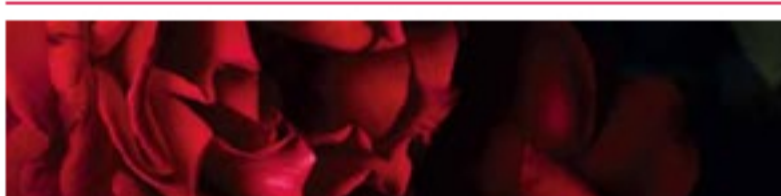

The bare branches of the winter trees reveal a very special plant: mistletoe. The semi-parasite whose milky white berries ripen at this time of year is a medicinal plant with an important part to play in cancer therapy.

Tip of the Month: Meteoreisen Globuli velati

January is a hard month, with its snow, icy air and early darkness. It is easy to catch a cold or pick up an infection now. WALA's *Meteoreisen Globuli velati offer protection. Take five to ten globules of Meteoreisen Globuli velati every morning for a period of three weeks. But perhaps you are already feeling under the weather and think you have a cold coming on? Then take five to ten globules three times a day for a maximum of two weeks.

Dr.Hauschka Regenerating Body Moisturizer nominated for Glammy Award

There were happy smiles all round when the letter from the GLAMOUR magazine arrived: The Regenerating Body Moisturizer is nominated for the Glammy Beauty Award. If you might have lost your heart to our Regenerating Body Moisturizer - give it your vote.
